

American Fliers Down 285 Planes In 3 Days

COUNTY FINDS HEAVY DAMAGE AFTER FLOOD

State highway department caretakers throughout the county labored today to clear away mud and debris deposited by the Thursday night flood while streams remained too high to make a complete checkup on damage to bridges although repair and cleanup work already laid out will cost an estimated $5,000, J. William Kendlehart, Jr., highway maintenance superintendent for the county, said.

More than 60 highway department employees and extra helpers worked at various points in the county Friday and today on rebuilding berms, shoulders of bridge approaches and clearing deposits of mud washed from roadside fields. Red lanterns Friday night marked the danger spots where roadsides had been torn out.

George P. Taylor, president of the board of county commissioners, and the commissioners' chief clerk, Clarence C. Smith, this morning made an inspection of a wood and iron bridge across Rock creek in Cumberland township, near the Taneytown road. The bridge was said to have been moved six inches by high waters Thursday night.

Contour Ditches Help
Severe damage to farm lands throughout the county continued to be reported but several farmers and fruitgrowers told The Gettysburg Times that diversion ditches and contour plantings practically eliminated erosion on their properties while roadways nearby were deeply gulled.

Some of the farmers and fruitgrowers have constructed diversion ditches or trenches—covered with sod, stone or concrete—to carry off flood waters from their hillsides and avoid washing. "Thursday night provided a tough test for that contour work and the ditches but they certainly worked fine," one farmer said.

Great Farm Damage
Except for the washing on orchard hillsides, the fruit section of the county said there probably was little damage. The blossoms are gone and the fruit was too small to be hurt by the driving rain, it was explained.

Particularly serious washing in corn and oats fields was reported in the southern and southeastern parts of the county. County Agent M. T. Hartman said today "thousands of dollars of damage" was done to fields and growing crops in that area alone. Scattered farms in that section which employ contour planting and diversion ditches fared far better than their neighbors, according to reports. One farm between Gettysburg and Littlestown handled the flood waters with its concreted diversion ditches that dumped the excess water into the roadside gutters without loss of soil.

Roadside washing along the new Gettysburg-Littlestown road was particularly severe, Superintendent Kendlehart said. There were many feet of soft berms and high, bare banks washed away or deeply gullied.

Game Suffers
Vernon Corle, Gettysburg Water company manager, estimated that during the height of the flood, water was pouring over the water company dam at the pumping station at the rate of about 500,000 gallons per second, many times the normal flow.

Field work on most farms in the county was at a standstill today while the ground dried out from Thursday's soaking. Unless more week-end showers come, farmers hope to be able to resume their corn planting operations by the beginning of the week.

Game Protector Leo A. Bushman said Thursday night's flood was "very hard" on game birds and rabbits in this section. "There are many young rabbits that must certainly have drowned in the lowlands," he said. "Quail are laying now and ringneck pheasant broods are hatching. There must have been a considerable toll from flooded nests and the drowning of young birds."

Two Inducted Into Service On Friday

Waybright Thomas, son of Mrs. Revere Thomas, Biglerville, reported Friday at Camp Meade, Maryland, for service. From there he will be sent to Georgetown university, Washington, D. C., for specialized training.

Robert Oyler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Oyler, Gettysburg R. D., was inducted at New Cumberland, Friday. Both Thomas and Oyler enlisted as members of the Army Reserve while students at Gettysburg college.

Amphibian Jeeps Deliver Milk In Flood Area

Military police in amphibian jeeps deliver milk supplies to isolated sections in the area flooded by the Wabash river at West Terre Haute, Ind. Three of the jeeps are shown proceeding down an inundated street.

MAY DAY FETE, PROCESSION AT XAVIER CHURCH

The annual May Procession and Crowning of the statue of the Blessed Virgin will be held Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock in St. Francis Xavier Catholic church with all of the parochial school children participating, it was announced today.

Ann Jacobs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Jacobs, East Broadway, a student in the second grade will crown the Virgin Mother. Doris Knox and Barbara Neary, two classmates, will be attendants.

The procession will move from the school building to the church. As the children march through the hymn "Immaculate Mary," the pilgrimage hymn sung at the grotto of the Blessed Mother at Lourdes, France. During the crowning the students will sing the hymn, "Hail Virgin, Dearest Mary."

Fr. Stock to Speak
Prayers of Consecration to the Blessed Mother will be recited by two second graders, Francis Robinson and Mark Stock. The Rev. Fr. Mark E. Stock, pastor of St. Francis church, will deliver the sermon during the services which will close with the Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

The service will be one of the last remaining activities of the youngsters prior to Commencement exercises Friday June 4. During the past several weeks the girls of the eighth grade knitted a blanket which was presented to the Red Cross as part of the "School at War Program."

It was announced that the amount of war stamps purchased by the school children had reached the $1,400 mark. During the past week the youngsters bought $39 worth of stamps. The war stamp sale began in January.

The school is taught by the Sisters of Mercy.

SUNDAY SCHOOL GROUP TO MEET

The annual Fourth District Sunday School convention will be held at St. John's Lutheran church, Abbotstown, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Luther Lady will be in charge of the song service and devotions will be conducted by the Rev. Dobbs Ehlmann.

The Rev. Elwood Johnson, pastor of the Holtzschwamm Lutheran church, will deliver the address. Conferences will be held as follows: Children's division, Mrs. John Kratzert, leader; Young People's division, the Rev. Ralph Baker, leader, and Adult's division, C. D. Krout, leader.

All persons interested in Sunday school and church work are invited to attend.

GUEST PREACHER

The Rev. Dr. Ralph D. Heim, member of the faculty of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary, will be the guest preacher at the Sunday morning service at the Presbyterian church.

SHORT OF GAS FOR FARM WORK

Washington, May 22 (AP)—Strict enforcement of the eastern pleasure driving ban and some curtailment of fuel allotments for commercial vehicles were indicated today as an acute gasoline shortage continued, the War Food Administration said, to imperil farm production in the east.

Officials of the Office of Price Administration and the Office of Defense Transportation resumed conferences on the commercial T-ration problem as an OPA spokesman emphasized that all other sources would be exhausted before A, B and C ration allotments would be cut.

OPA rejected a proposal of the Agriculture department that A, B and C books be cancelled temporarily along part of the Atlantic seaboard. The department's recommendation followed reports that many farm tractors and other machinery used in food production were standing idle due to lack of fuel. The farm situation was particularly alarming in the north-eastern states, the department said.

SPECIAL SCOUT SERVICE SUNDAY

Members of Boy Scout troop 77, will participate in the morning worship service at the First Methodist church, Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock. The service has been arranged to honor members of the troop, to "recognize the important place which the scouting movement has in the life of the nation."

Members of the troop will attend the service in a body and occupy a section of the sanctuary reserved for them. The troop will enter the church during the singing of the "processional hymn, "Onward Christian Soldiers." The color bearers will be Robert Schweizer and William Snyder. The flags will be presented within the church.

Recite Oath, Law
The troop will recite the scout oath and law led by Sydney Poppy, Jr. Herbert Sollenberger will lead the congregation and the scouts in the responsive reading of the Psalter. Ushers for the service will be Scouts Jack Ridinger, Kimon Mitchell, William Straley and Charles Kitzmiller.

The Rev. Paul D. Leedy, pastor of the church, will preach a special sermon on the theme, "Scouting and the Spiritual." Jack Cessna, scoutmaster of the troop, assisted in arranging for the service.

Winton Redding Is Air Corps Officer

Winton Redding, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Redding, Chambersburg street, and former manager of Redding's Grocery store here, was commissioned a second lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force Thursday.

Lieutenant Redding spent Friday and today with his parents while enroute to Randolph Field, Texas, where he will be assigned as a communications officer.

He received his commission Thursday at Yale university where he completed a course in communications after previous study at Air Force schools in Sioux Falls, South Dakota, and Valley Forge Military academy.

He was inducted into service August 3, 1942.

GARDENERS BUY PLANT SUPPLY AT MART TODAY

Supplies of vegetable plants disappeared quickly from the stands at the Farmers' Market this morning as local Victory gardeners stocked up with cabbage, tomato and sweet potato plants to be set out in their plots as soon as the ground dries sufficiently from the Thursday night flood.

Cabbage plants sold at 10 and 15 cents a dozen. Tomato plants were 15 cents while sweet potato plants brought 60 cents per hundred at most stands. Various types of flower plants also were on sale. Blooming gladiolus sold for 50 and 60 cents each while geraniums brought 35 cents each. Cut flowers also were on sale.

White and red radishes could be had at five, eight and 10 cents a bunch or two bunches for 15 cents at some stalls. New spinach sold for 10 cents a quart box and 20 cents a quarter peck. Lettuce sold generally at 10 cents a quart box. Spring onions were five and 10 cents a bunch. Asparagus was plentiful at 25 and 30 cents a bunch and rhubarb was in good supply at 10 and 15 cents a bunch.

Poultry Plentiful
Egg prices ranged from 35 to 40 cents a dozen, being unchanged from last week's level. Dressed chickens sold at 58 cents a pound, one cent below the OPA ceiling price. There was a good demand for the dressed fowl but plenty of chickens were on hand to supply all customers.

A few apples could be had. One stand offered Old Fashioned Winesaps at 25 cents for a two-quart basket. No potatoes were on sale in market this morning. Two farmers brought small quantities along to fill advance orders from one or two customers.

GUARD DRILLS IN UNIFORM

The Adams county home guard unit held its first "full dress" public marching drill Friday evening with all members of the unit appearing for the first time in uniform.

The volunteer soldiers marched from the armory and through some of the streets of the town in preparation for a parade schedule calling for participation in three Memorial Day exercises during next week-end.

Starting Saturday, May 29, the soldiers will begin a week-end of drills that will include participation in Memorial Day parade exercises at New Oxford, Saturday; at Littlestown, Sunday, May 30, and marching in the parade here Monday, May 31.

The marching drill Friday night was the second public drill held by the soldiers. Last week a similar drill was held but at that time many of the men still were not in uniform.

Commander C. Arthur Brame was in charge of the troops during the drill.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT
Mr. and Mrs. John Hemler, 138 East Water street, announce the birth of a son at the Warner hospital Friday evening.

AID TO CHINA IS "GOD-SEND" FOR COURAGE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Determination of the Allied war council in Washington to speed the movement of war materials and other supplies into China is a god-send for that hard-hit and long-suffering country.

This presumably will involve an extension of the American job of transporting stuff by air over the dangerous route across the mountains between India and China—one of the toughest assignments of the war. It will be worth it, though, for that's about the only way to move goods pending the recapture of Burma and the reopening of the Burma road, or the completion of fresh roads through the mountain wilderness.

Tower of Relief
Every extra hundred-weight package moved to the Chinese will be a tower of relief. When I was in Chungking early this year the situation as regards supplies was terribly bad—far worse, I believe, than the people of other countries ever realized.

The Chinese have been so hard up for fighting equipment that their success in withstanding utter defeat is one of the wonders of the world. They have been hamstringing for lack of arms and equipment of all categories. About the only weapon they have had with which to wage war, apart from their splendid determination and courage, has been limitless space to trade to the enemy for time.

The Chinese have been waiting to get equipped by the Allies. Meantime their resources have been so small that the military command hasn't found it feasible to engage in major offensive operations. About all that could be done was hold the line as best possible.

But there's a lot more to China's troubles than that. She's been asking for arms and hasn't been saying much about food or raiment.

Also Need Food
The economic position is dependent on the military situation. With the Japs in possession of most of the centers of production and trade, it's not hard to see that the economic structure of unoccupied China must be shot as full of holes as a sieve. Things are bad, and inflation is running through the country.

The Chinese need equipment with which to recapture military positions which would help them economically. For that matter they need it right now to protect themselves against the Japanese offensive aimed at the great rice-growing area in Hunan province, which is now partly in Jap hands and partly in Chinese.

Involved in this Nipponese drive is a city which the Chinese have been very anxious to get back—Ichang, the strategic port on the Yangtze west of Hankow. This is the most important city on the middle Yangtze and its possession by the invaders, who captured it last June, has been of great value in military operations.

Need 500 Planes
I was told in Chungking that the Chinese felt if they had airpower they could reclaim Ichang and thus open up Hunan province with its badly needed rice. For this operation and others, they wanted between 300 and 500 warplanes. Had it been possible to get those planes then, we might have had a different story today.

Burma can't be invaded before the end of next September, because of the monsoon weather. Thus the urgently needed aid will have to be handled by air transport for a long time to come. This presumably means that the chief help for China to stand off the present Jap offensive will be in bombers and fighter planes.

State Reports On Aid Payments Here

Unemployment compensation payments in the Gettysburg district totaled $490 during the week that ended Friday, according to an announcement from the office of State Treasurer G. Harold Wagner. Payments throughout the state amounted to $83,094.

Another statement from the same office showed that direct relief payments to needy residents of Adams county during the same week amounted to $308.80, an increase of $9.40 over the figure for the preceding week, but $18 less than that for the comparable week last year. Seventy-one relief checks were issued this week.

Many Tin Cans Are Not Usable

Many of the tin cans collected by salvage committees in the county have proved unusable either because they were rusty, had previously been used to store oil or were not properly flattened, O. H. Benson, chairman of the county salvage committee said today.

"Only cans that have had the paper covering removed, and have been flattened with the top and bottom inside can be used at the processing plants that salvage the tin from the cans. Old rusty tins, cans used for oil, wax or paraffined products are also unusable because the presence of oil prevents the proper processing," Mr. Benson said.

NEW POTATOES RELIEVE LOCAL SPUD FAMINE

The third successive week-end potato "famine" faced Gettysburg today, but the situation was somewhat less serious than in the preceding two weeks.

Of the six largest grocery stores in town, one had sufficient potatoes for a week's supply, its manager said. One reported a possibility that it might secure some of the valuable spuds later today while the four others reported a complete absence of potatoes from their store bins. There were no potatoes on sale at Farmers' market this morning.

The situation was helped immeasurably by the fact that most of the stores had secured some potatoes during the past week. One chain store secured a large supply Friday and sold out during the day. Some stores had potatoes during several days of the week, and one reported having had spuds during the entire week.

First New Potatoes
New potatoes made their appearance for the first time in the stores this week, and most managers felt that during the coming week there should be larger quantities on sale. Demands of the U. S. Government for new potatoes to feed members of the armed forces caused some of the shortage in this area during the past week, one wholesaler said he had learned in Baltimore while seeking to purchase potatoes for local stores.

A number of carloads of spuds scheduled to be placed on market at Baltimore were transferred to Army camps while enroute to the Baltimore market, he said. The sale of "Black Market" potatoes was reported active by various storekeepers who stated they could purchase any amount of potatoes in various nearby cities if they could sell at a higher price. Black Market prices, they said, ranged from 4 to 10c a pound higher than the established ceiling price at which the stores can sell.

Fruit Growers To Meet Thursday

Methods of combating the codling moth, for the last several years one of the greatest enemies of the fruit grower, will be discussed at the May meeting of the Adams county Fruit Growers' association to be held in the Biglerville auditorium, Thursday, at 8 p. m.

J. O. Pepper, extension entomologist from State College, will be present to explain new methods of controlling the pests and to assist in working out a spray schedule in accordance with current shortages. G. L. Zundel, plant pathologist from Penn State, is also expected to be present.

Father Arrested On School Charge

Lloyd Richardson, Mummansburg street, was arrested Friday by Chief of Police Glenn Guise on a charge of violating the school code by keeping his daughter out of school. The charge was laid before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore by a Gettysburg school official.

Richardson was released on his own recognizance for a hearing Monday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock before Justice Basehore.

HOSPITAL REPORT
Mrs. Frank Raffensperger, Gettysburg R. 2; Mrs. Raymond Warren, Bendersville, and Mrs. John Hemler, East Water street, have been admitted as patients to the Warner hospital. There were no discharges.

Radio Service, Baker's Battery Service.

Sardinia And Sicily Bombed By Big Forces

By NOLAND NORGAARD
Allied Headquarters in North Africa, May 22 (AP)—American bombers and fighters destroyed 96 enemy planes yesterday in sky sweeping combats and damaging raids on Axis airdromes in Sardinia and Sicily.

Nineteen fighters were destroyed in combat and another 77 were knocked out on the ground.

Yesterday's victories brought the three-day score of the Northwest African air force to 282 enemy planes, of which 80 were shot down and 202 were destroyed on the ground.

(This direct dispatch did not take into account three additional enemy fighters which the communique said were destroyed Thursday night. These would raise the three day total to 285.)

Large fires were left burning by fighter-escorted Flying Fortresses in attacks yesterday on Sciacca and Castelvetro airfields in Sicily, the communique said.

Harbor installations and gun positions on Pantelleria island, 45 miles east of Cap Bon peninsula, again were attacked, it was announced, by fighter-bombers of the strategic air force.

The airfields at Villacidro and Decimomannu in Sardinia were attacked by Wellington bombers Thursday night and B-25 Mitchells and B-26 Marauders with fighter-escort followed up the attacks yesterday, it was announced.

Seven Allied planes failed to return from all the missions, headquarters said.

POLICE ASKED TO HELP OPA

OPA officials met Friday with Chief of Police Glenn Guise and Burgess Fred G. Pfeffer to discuss cooperation by the local police with the enforcement of the new OPA gasoline regulations banning pleasure driving.

What assistance would be given by the local police was not immediately revealed. In a previous OPA enforcement drive some months ago local police assisted OPA officers in stopping cars after which the OPA official questioned drivers as to the necessity of their use of their car. Whether OPA enforcement agents will visit Gettysburg to check on driving could not be learned from the local police this morning, although rumors were prevalent that there would be a general stoppage of all cars to determine where the drivers were going and to establish the necessity for the driving.

Lions To Learn Of "Home Guard" Unit

Capt. C. Arthur Brame, commander of the Adams county unit of the Pennsylvania Reserve Defense corps, and Sgt. George N. Coshun of the same organization, will present the program at the weekly dinner meeting of the Gettysburg Lions club Monday evening at Mrs. Smith's restaurant.

Captain Brame will speak of the purpose and duties of the "home guard" unit and will tell of special instructions he received at a training camp he attended recently at Camp Meade. He and Sgt. Coshun will demonstrate phases of training and tactics of the local detachment.

President William A. Beales will preside at the session, the last the Lions will hold this month.

Nab Drivers For Driving 80, 65 MPH.

State police from the Gettysburg substation nabbed two speeders on the Gettysburg-Carlisle highway north of Biglerville, late Friday night and early this morning, and will file charges against them before a nearby justice of the peace.

Harry Wilmer, Gettysburg R. 1, is to be charged with driving 80 miles an hour and Wayne Black, Bendersville, will be accused of traveling 65 miles an hour. Officers said neither driver offered any reason for his high speed. Wilmer said he was enroute home from work at Gardner's. Black had nothing to say.

• In addition to the planes shot out of the air in yesterday's attacks, aircraft on the ground were destroyed in the attacks on the Sicilian airdromes. "Both targets were well-covered by bomb bursts and fires were started," the communique said.

Blast Terminals
In the raids on the Sardinian airfields, "large fires and extensive damage to airfield buildings and to aircraft on the ground resulted," it added.

(A Middle East command communique issued at Cairo said U. S. bombers scored direct hits on ferry terminals at San Giovanni and Reggio Calabria on the Italian mainland yesterday, destroying 10 Axis fighter planes attempting to intercept. RAF heavy bombers also attacked Reggio Calabria and Messina Thursday night, starting fires in ferry berths and railway yards, the war bulletin said.)

(The Italian communique, recorded by the Associated Press from a Rome broadcast, said "considerable damage" was done to houses at Messina and Reggio Calabria, and admitted that the Allies also had attacked in Sardinia and Pantelleria. It said that 100 were killed and 102 injured in Reggio Calabria and San Giovanni, and that 10 were injured in Messina.)

(The communique also said that a tanker and a freighter were sunk in a torpedo attack on an Allied convoy off Tunisia.)

Canning Sugar Available Monday

Washington, May 22 (AP)—Starting next Monday, stamps No. 15 and 16 in Ration Book One will be good for five pounds of sugar each for home canning.

OPA explained that families requiring more than 10 pounds of sugar per person for home canning may apply to local ration boards for additional allowances.

The sugar-for-canning provision does not interfere with the regular sugar rationing program, OPA said. A spokesman pointed out that stamp No. 13 would become valid June 1 to August 15 for five pounds.

Washington, May 22 (AP)—Members of the armed forces stationed in the United States will be issued Ration Book No. 3 only when the book is put into use, Paul M. O'Leary, OPA Deputy Administrator in charge of rationing, said today. Ration Book No. 3 will replace books now used for the rationing of sugar, coffee, shoes, canned goods, meats, and oils and fats.

Property Transfers

The First National Bank of Arundelsville sold to Joseph S. Boyer, Biglerville, a 19-acre property in Butler township.

DOOR IS OPEN FOR INCREASE TO COAL MINERS

By JOSEPH A. LOFTUS

Washington, May 22 (AP)—Decision time was at hand in the soft coal wage controversy as the War Labor Board delved today into a fact-packed panel report which left the way wide open for more money to the miners in various forms.

By meeting daily and Sunday, board members hope to issue a decision early next week, but the voluminous panel report furnished no clue to what that decision might be.

Under strict instructions to avoid recommendations, the panel members could give no more than a hint of their own opinions and even those might have no bearing on the full board's action. None of the three panel members will have a vote in the final decision. Two of them—the public and labor member—never were associated with the board in a case before.

Leaves Door Open

The panel chairman and public member was Morris L. Cooke, of Philadelphia. Representing labor was David B. Robertson, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, an independent union. The industry member was Walter White, assistant to the chairman of the business advisory council, Department of Commerce.

The report made it clear that the miners, since January 1, 1941, have received average increases in straight time rates which exceed 15 per cent. Mathematically, that precludes a further basic wage increase under the board's little steel formula. However, the panel cited the miners' arguments that the $1 a day ($1.40 in the south) raise they received in April, 1941, was not a cost-of-living increase and therefore should not be charged against the formula.

The miners contend, and the operators deny, that the 1941 raise was based on increases in mine productivity since 1937, when they received their last preceding wage hike. The miners also contend their two-year contract barred them from increases which many unions obtained in 1942.

360 Leave Jobs At Steelton Plant

Harrisburg, May 22 (AP)—Settlement of a mushrooming work stoppage at the nearby Steelton plant of the Bethlehem Steel company was sought today by Federal and state conciliators after an initial walkout of 150 men in a rolling mill spread to three other departments.

General Manager Frank A. Robbins, who charged "these walkouts apparently by prearrangement certainly have the effect of sabotaging the war effort," reported more than 300 had left their jobs with many others made idle. He said important work for the Navy and the Maritime commission was halted. "It now develops that the employees involved refused to return to work unless certain demands for wage increases are granted," Robbins added.

RAF Batters Berlin Targets Third Night

London, May 22 (AP)—Britain's new and speedy Mosquito bombers returned again to Berlin last night to blast targets in the Reich capital for the third successive night.

Other British planes laid mines in enemy waters overnight while Mosquito intruders attacked railway targets in France and the Lowlands sank two ships out of a five-ship convoy off the French coast.

The after-dark attacks followed up yesterday's daylight raids by American Flying Fortresses on important sources of German U-boat strength at Wilhelmshaven and Emden and carried into the ninth night the aerial offensive which many sources expected to turn soon into a death-blow attack against Hitler's Europe.

The British reported five bombers and one fighter missing from the night's operations.

Hint Murder In Yamamoto's Death

Washington, May 22 (AP)—Elmer Davis, director of war information, says that perhaps Admiral Yamamoto, reported by Tokyo to have died in air combat, "was bumped off by some of the rest of the mob—as has happened to high officers in Germany and Italy."

Davis, in his weekly radio broadcast last night reviewed various guesses on what—in addition to the official Japanese explanation of death in combat—might have caused the death of the commander-in-chief of the Nipponese Navy, including the possibility of suicide. Saying that hatred of foreigners and overconfidence after victories early in the war might have "affected his judgment," Davis said:

"At any rate, the Japanese Navy was none too brilliantly handled in the latter half of 1942, so his colleagues may have decided he had outlived his usefulness and that they could cover up his murder by giving him a great publicity build-up as a hero."

700 Japs Die In Rice Bowl Thrust

Chungking, May 22 (AP)—More than 700 Japanese troops have been killed in an abortive attack northward from Tengyueh, the Japanese advance base west of the Salween river, the Chinese Central News agency reported today.

The agency said the newly-attempted Japanese thrust was blunted by the Chinese who were still engaging the enemy.

The new attack followed renewed assaults by Japanese forces in their attempt to penetrate China's rice bowl, west of Lake Tungting. Chungking dispatches last night said Japanese forces were striking southward from below Ichang. Chinese bombers retaliated by bombing Ichang, on the Yangtze river, and said they started large fires in supply depots and military installations.

Wedding

Good—Lookenbill

Miss Dolores Lookenbill, Hanover, daughter of Mrs. James Shenk, Gettysburg, and Air Cadet Robert B. Good, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Good, near Hanover, were married last Saturday evening, at 7:15 o'clock in St. John's Lutheran church, Clinton, S. C., by the Rev. J. LaGrande Mayer.

They were attended by Cadet and Mrs. Donald E. Rentzel. The bride was attired in a powder blue street length dress trimmed with white lace, with matching accessories, and wore a shoulderette of white rosebuds. The matron of honor wore a navy blue dress trimmed with white lace and had a shoulderette of pink rosebuds. A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Payne, Clinton, S. C., with a large number of cadets and friends attending.

The bride is a graduate of the Hanover high school, class of 1940, and had been employed by The Hanover Shoe, Inc. The bridegroom was graduated from the Hanover high school in the class of 1939, and had been employed in the Glenn L. Martin plant, near Baltimore, before enlisting in the Air Corps. The couple will reside at Clinton where Cadet Good is stationed.

DEATHS

Mrs. John C. Armacost

Mrs. Barbara Ellen Armacost, 61, wife of John C. Armacost, died suddenly at her home at Grace church, Maryland, about noon on Thursday from a heart attack.

She was a daughter of the late William H. and Elizabeth Armacost Wheeler, and is survived by her husband and two daughters, Mrs. Paul Bowman, Littlestown, and Mrs. Malcolm Spicer, Pikesville, Md., and a son, Vernon Armacost, at home; also by a sister, Mrs. Walter Martin, Washington, D. C., and two brothers, W. Irving and Elissa P. Wheeler, both of Baltimore county.

Funeral services will be held at the Grace Methodist church today at 2:30 p. m., with the Rev. Lloyd L. Krug, pastor of the Hampstead Methodist circuit, in charge. Interment will be made in the church cemetery.

Mrs. Lydia Sprengel

Mrs. Lydia Sprengel, 79, widow of Cyrus R. Sprengel, died Friday afternoon at her home in Harrisburg.

Surviving are two sons, Pack E. Linglestown R. 1, and Fern R. of Harrisburg; a sister, Mrs. Florence Hoffman, Carlisle, and three brothers, Emanuel Haverstick, York; Luther, Hanover, and Howard, Gettysburg R. D.

Funeral services Monday at 2 p. m. at the Richard Lee Snyder funeral home, 1720 Regina street, Harrisburg, with the Rev. A. M. Billman, pastor of Fourth Reformed church, officiating. Burial in Shoop's Church cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday after 7 p. m.

Mrs. Clara Harding

Mrs. Clara Elizabeth Annie Harding, 83, widow of John L. Harding, was found dead in bed at her home in Franklin township, near Hilltown, this morning at 9 o'clock. Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams county coroner, investigated and attributed death to cerebral hemorrhage.

She had been in her usual health Friday and had retired Friday evening at 10 o'clock.

She was born and resided her entire life in Adams county, a daughter of the late Peter and Mary Jane (Mullett) Brough, and was the last of her family. Her husband, who died in 1893, was a Confederate soldier in the Civil War.

Surviving are two sons, Lee, at home, and Benjamin, Washington, D. C., and four grandchildren.

Funeral services from the Bender funeral home Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock conducted by the Rev. H. O. Sipe, Biglerville. Interment in Evergreen cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Monday evening after 7 o'clock.

PURSE IS FOUND

A purse containing several dollars in change was brought to the Gettysburg Times office this morning by William I. Shields, North Washington street, who said he found it near the square, Friday. Upon identification the owner will be given the purse and its contents.

RED CROSS GIFT

The Red Cross received today $5.50 contributed by the children of the third and fourth grades of the Hamilton township consolidated school at Fairfield and their teacher, Mrs. Fannie S. March, Seminary avenue.

Women who married at the age of 16 or younger in the first days of Canada were given money rewards.

BYRNES TAKING HAND TO SOLVE TAX QUESTION

By JACK BELL

Washington, May 22 (AP)—Stabilization Director James F. Byrnes was reported taking a hand today in efforts to bring about a compromise between Senate and House conferees in what appeared to be an almost hopeless deadlock on pay-as-you-go tax legislation.

Should the Byrnes' diplomacy fail, there was a strong possibility that the House might vote for the fourth time on the Senate-approved modified Ruml plan to skip a tax year.

Lacking any definite word from President Roosevelt on what sort of a current collection bill he would sign, some conferees were reported to have appealed to Byrnes for an expression of the administration's attitude. Their decision at a meeting today whether to abandon or continue the conference may rest on Byrnes' report, one member said.

Conference Deadlocked

The conference has been blocked on the fundamental issue of flat abatement of a full or part of a year's tax on a fixed horizontal basis, or only partial cancellation on a graduated basis.

The House-approved bill canceling the 6 per cent normal and 13 per cent first bracket surtax on 1942 incomes apparently is being given little consideration. All the proposals would put into operation July 1 a 20 per cent withholding tax on wages and salaries, above basic exemptions.

Senate conferees reportedly rejected yesterday a proposal by the House group to adopt a Ways and Means committee measure which would grant greater percentage abatement to those in the lower brackets.

This action left still in the running a proposal by Senator George (D-Ga.) to cancel 75 per cent of the lesser of either 1942 or 1943 taxes instead of the full abatement on that basis voted by the Senate for all persons except those with wind-fall incomes.

FOOD SHORTAGE THREATENS JAPS

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, May 22 (AP)—American conquest of the western Aleutians, some authorities said today, probably will prove to be a serious stab at Japan's food supply by bringing important north Pacific fishing grounds under the guns of American patrol ships and planes.

Cutting the enemy's seafood supply by sinking some of his fishing boats and sending the rest scuttling back to Japan, it was said, would be a major step in the planned economic strangulation of the island empire.

Fish—along with rice—constitutes a chief part of the Japanese diet.

These strategists said a campaign to close huge fishing grounds to the enemy probably will be one of the first moves of the American North Pacific command, as soon as forward positions in the western Aleutians have been secured and developed.

Most advanced of the air bases undoubtedly will be on Attu island, where Japanese resistance has been all but eliminated by Americans who invaded the island 12 days ago.

Secretary Knox told a press conference late yesterday that the campaign was successful and it was only a question of time until the Japanese remnants trapped on the northeastern extremity of Attu were finally overwhelmed.

Wellingtons Pound Japs At Mandalay

New Delhi, May 22 (AP)—Long-range RAF Wellington bombers attacked enemy railway marshalling yards last night at Mandalay, the British announced today, and during daylight yesterday other RAF formations twice raided Japanese installations in and around the Burma town of Indaw.

Fast-flying fighters dipped down over the Indaw airfield yesterday morning for a low level attack and a few hours later Blenheims bombed the Indaw railway station and other objectives in the vicinity, setting a number of fires.

Retail Stores Are Short Of Potatoes

Philadelphia, May 22 (AP)—Most retail stores in Philadelphia were reported "completely out" of potatoes today after the Office of Price Administration disclosed what it said were flagrant violations of OPA regulations in the sale of fresh vegetables.

Housewives seeking to buy potatoes in some stores where they are available are being forced to buy other perishable vegetables with them, the OPA said last night.

Approved prices listed by the agency were 28 cents for five pounds of old potatoes, 39 cents for five pounds of new potatoes, and nine cents a pound for new Texas potatoes.

Upper Communities

The Men's Bible class of Bethlehem Lutheran Sunday school, Bendersville, will be taught Sunday by Prof. L. V. Stock, supervising principal of the Biglerville schools. All members are urged to be present.

Corporal Howard Galloway has returned to camp in California after spending a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Galloway, of Gardners.

The Auxiliary of the Ira E. Lady post of the American Legion held its May meeting Thursday evening at the post home in Biglerville.

Miss Janet Garretson, Biglerville R. D., and Miss Magdalene Routsong, of Bendersville, have gone to Columbia, South Carolina, for a visit.

Mrs. Cecil Thomas, Asheville, North Carolina, has been spending a few days with her cousin, Mrs. Revere Thomas, Biglerville.

The Volunteer class of Zion Evangelical Reformed Sunday school, Arendtsville, taught by Mrs. D. B. Lady, will hold its May meeting Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Ernest Wishard.

Mrs. Ralph Shetter entertained the members of the O.T.T. club Friday evening at their home in Biglerville. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Nile Thomas.

Miss Emma Baer, Biglerville, is spending the week-end at her home at Salunga.

The Rev. and Mrs. Henry W. Sternat and Mrs. U. S. Kleinfeiler, Biglerville, visited Mrs. George Knouse, who is a patient at the Carlisle hospital, a day this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus G. Bucher and daughter, Sue, Biglerville, are visiting relatives in Mechanicsburg over the week-end.

The trip which the Volunteer class of St. Paul's Lutheran Sunday school, Biglerville, had planned to make to Gettysburg on Sunday has been cancelled due to driving restrictions.

Action Flares Anew In New Guinea Area

Allied Headquarters in Australia, May 22 (AP)—Dogged efforts of the Japanese to supply their menaced New Guinea bases by barge and determination of the Allies to neutralize enemy air strongholds above New Guinea with a great weight of bombs have intensified the southwest Pacific air war.

Showing more and more inclination to challenge the daily forays of Lieut. General George C. Kenney's bombers and fighters, the Japanese used 47 planes yesterday in raid and combat, bringing to 300 the number they have employed in a week's period. Their losses yesterday of 22 destroyed or damaged raised their total for the week to approximately 70.

Today's communique also listed one Allied bomber as shot down and three missing.

Teacher Is Denied Dismissal Appeal

Harrisburg, May 22 (AP)—Dr. Francis B. Haas, Superintendent of Public Instruction, denied today the appeal of Jeanette L. Barrass, Donora school teacher, who was dismissed by the local board on charges of wilful violation of commonwealth school laws.

Haas said "the conclusion reached by the county superintendent was that the work of Miss Barrass was found to be unsatisfactory" and added the record includes "sufficient competent evidence to warrant the dismissal of the appellant on the grounds of incompetency and wilful violation of the school laws."

Miss Barrass was a teacher for 22 years, 19, of which she served in Donora schools.

To Recruit WAACs Here; Hartzell Moves

Pvt. Mahlon P. Hartzell, Jr., formerly in charge of WAAC recruiting in Adams county and for the last several months assigned to similar duties at York, has been ordered to Harrisburg on Monday. He will continue to be attached to the recruiting service.

Three WAAC recruiting officers visited Gettysburg Friday, and made arrangements to return here next week to interview applicants for enlistment in the Women's Army Auxiliary corps. They will announce early in the week the schedule for their future visits here.

The WAACs who were here Friday included: Corporal Lola Mae Harvey, St. Louis; Auxiliary Regina Logan, Philadelphia, and Auxiliary Louise Burd.

VESTS FOR SOLDIERS

Harrisburg, May 22 (AP)—Pennsylvania hunters contributed last season 7,000 deerskins, enough to make 3,500 leather vests for the armed forces, in answer to a War Production Board plea for the skins, the state Game commission announced today.

Parachutes For Carrier Pigeons

Fort Benning, Ga., May 22 (AP)—Birds would not normally be expected to have parachutes, but the Army is providing some for its carrier pigeons.

The pigeons are used with paratroopers who might land behind enemy lines and be unable to use radio to get necessary information back to their bases.

The birds are dropped either in special containers strapped to the soldiers' chests, or in cages attached to parachutes.

GROSS VOTES "YES" TWICE ON MAJOR BILLS

Washington, May 22 (AP)—Pennsylvania members of Congress were recorded as voting during the week ended May 20 as follows:

House

To instruct conferees to agree to Senate version of Ruml skip-a-year tax plan, defeated 202-194.

Yes: Ditter, Fenton, Gallagher, Gavin, Gerlach, Gillette, Graham, Gross, Kinzer, Miller, Pracht, Rodgers, Scott, Simpson, Tibbitt, Troutman, Van Zandt, Wolfenden.

No: Bradley, Eberharter, Furlong, Hoch, Kelley, Murphy, Myers, Scanlon, Sheridan, Snyder, Walter, Weiss, Wright.

Not voting: Kunkel, McGranery. Amendment to deficiency appropriations bill denying payment of salaries to Goodwin B. Watson, William E. Dodd, Jr., and Robert M. Lovett, accused of being affiliated with subversive groups, approved 318-62.

Yes: Bradley, Ditter, Eberharter, Fenton, Gallagher, Gavin, Gerlach, Gillette, Graham, Gross, Hoch, Kinzer, Kunkel, Miller, Murphy, Pracht, Rodgers, Scott, Sheridan, Simpson, Snyder, Tibbitt, Troutman, Van Zandt, Walter, Wolfenden, Wright.

No: Furlong, Kelley, Myers, Scanlon, Weiss.

Not voting: McGranery. Naval appropriations bill passed, 360-0.

Senate

Skip-a-year tax proposal, approved 49-30.

Yes: Davis.

No: Guffey.

LRB Orders Halt To "Unfair" Practices

Harrisburg, May 22 (AP)—The American Stores company has been ordered by the state Labor Relations board to halt what the Retail Clerks International Protective association (AFL) charged before the board was "unfair labor practices."

The board told the company also to "withdraw all recognition" from the Anthracite Retail Clerks association of Schuylkill county as the representative of its employees in connection with stores operated in Shenandoah, Mahanoy City, Girardville, Frackville, Mt. Carmel, Centralia and Ashland.

Levi G. Lichter, board chairman, said the American Stores company "contended it did not violate the Pennsylvania labor act."

$45,000 Verdict Against Steel Co.

Pittsburgh, May 22 (AP)—A Common Pleas court jury of 12 women returned a $45,000 damage verdict against the Crucible Steel company last night for an automobile accident which was blamed on smoke obscuring a Pittsburgh bridge.

Mrs. Helen M. Hudson was awarded $28,000 and Miss Mary R. Lavelle $17,000.

Mrs. Hudson's husband, Arthur P. Hudson, 50, plant superintendent and director of a Pittsburgh brewing company, was fatally injured when cars operated by Frank Grace and George Ficht collided on the bridge March 9, 1942. Miss Lavelle suffered fractures of the left arm and foot and concussion of the brain.

Chrysler Plants Resuming War Work

Detroit, May 22 (AP)—Back to work moves, under War Labor board pressure, were expected to restore to war production today some of the strike-affected plants of the Chrysler corporation here, but full production was indicated not earlier than Monday.

International officers of the United Automobile Workers (CIO) transmitted to heads of locals the regional WLB's directive that their members return to work "immediately" and moves toward gaining quick compliance came from two of the three locals involved.

The 3,000 membership of Local 946 of the De Soto bomber plant voted to resume work this morning. Heads of Chrysler Local 7 of the 8,000-member Kercheval and Jefferson plants said they spent the night at telephone conferences accomplishing "a good job of selling the men on the idea" of returning today.

Riding with Russell

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off. by FREDERICK C. RUSSELL, Member S. A. E.

Somewhat it seems that the slower a driver's mind works the faster things happen to him.

I don't know whether my friend Bill will object to my telling this one on him, but he's just had a picnic with the speedometer because its head was found to be filled with grease. He had always prided himself on knowing enough about cars to avoid the risk of lubricating so delicate an instrument, yet there he was with what seemed to be all the evidence in the world to prove that he had violated the rule. At the service station he learned that his real mistake was carelessness in lubricating the cable. Not only had he used too much grease but the wrong kind. It worked up into the head.

Safety in Secondary Roads

I was much impressed by a radio interview recently in which a woman writer told of having been able to escape from Paris when the Germans invaded France. She was able to get away because of her intimate knowledge of secondary roads. Main roads were crowded to a point where traffic became choked and many who might have escaped were caught in their own meshes. She said that for many hours she did not encounter any traffic whatever.

There's a world of advice in this experience. Should it ever become necessary for you to evacuate your homeland do you know some little frequented roads which could serve as ideal avenues of escape by car? It suggests getting out the maps and consulting your automobile club.

H. N. L. didn't care if the front wheels and tires were out of balance, explaining that he had access to new tires when needed. It all sounded like a simple case of not giving a hoot about rubber conservation, but he's paying for his neglect in a way he never considered. You see there is an excessive strain on the front end when wheels shimmy, this being particularly tough on wheel bearings, tie-rod ends, knee action parts, king pins, bushings and the steering gear itself. Shimmy pounds grease and oil from vital parts of the front end, thus accelerating wear. Now he's also faced with hard steering.

Three to Remember

Where it is all right to use tap water for the battery cells be sure to let the water run long enough to remove any impurities from pipe accumulations.

Poor gasoline will run down the battery. Strange? Not at all. Low grade fuel simply prolongs the starting process so that the battery has to overwork.

Should the ammeter fail to show charging when the engine is speeded up it is well to check into the cut-out relay rather than to suspect the generator of failure. The cut-out points may have failed to close.

Spring tension of generator brushes is a point seldom considered by car owners who go searching for the cause of low output. If there's too much tension the brushes will wear rapidly and damage the commutator. If tension is too little there will be arcing and thus damage to the commutator. Often what passes for regulator trouble actually is due to brush trouble.

Word to the Wise

Before adding hydraulic fluid to the shock absorbers or to the supply tank of the braking system remember to clean around the filler plug. This may seem like a trifle but actually a little cleanliness here will go a long way toward keeping dirt out of parts which are easily damaged. Be especially careful where you put the filler plug during the refilling job. The plug itself may pick up dirt or abrasive unless placed on a clean surface.

Readers who hesitate to write me for information because their cars are ten years' old would be less embarrassed if they knew how often I have to take recourse to my manuals of the vintage of 1928 and 1929. Many owners still are busy adjusting tappet clearances for cars that go way back there to the stock market boom of pre-New Deal days.

Their cars are so old they no longer have any literature covering necessary services, especially data relating to bearings, carburetor adjustments and timing of valves and ignition. An interesting angle to these older jobs is that they do not differ so widely from those of recent vintage. Much of the "progress" in design has been surprisingly superficial.

Tip on the Brakes

When I told one reader that the noise in the brakes of his car was due to dirt in the drums he thanked me and added that while this was annoying probably the dirt would increase friction and actually improve braking. I'm telling you about this because he is dead wrong. Like water, kerosene and warm grease dirt actually decreases the coefficient of friction. Just as a matter of information I might add that cold grease increases the coefficient of friction.

Sludging of crankcase lubricant these days is largely due to excessive blow by the piston rings during the warming up process, and bear in mind that with such restricted driving most engines are always just warming up these days. Carbonic acid greatly accelerates this sludging. All this imposes an extra strain on the oil filter so that for this device to be effective in safeguarding the engine cartridges must be changed more often. If the filter has a drain this should be opened up frequently to provide for escape of sludge that traps in the shell. This sludging renders filters less effective, yet the very fact of this because he is dead wrong. Like water, kerosene and warm grease dirt actually decreases the coefficient of friction. Just as a matter of information I might add that cold

About the best way to test a fan to see if it is on the job is to raise thhood and accelerate the engine several times. You may be surprised to see the fan suddenly slow down, or even stop, when the engine speeds up. This means either of two things: the fan's bearing is cramped or broken, or that it isn't properly lubricated. I used to stop the fan on one of my earlier cars by forcing an excess of grease into its bearing under pressure with a grease gun.

Because engines shake a lot in their flexible mountings it is important to check over the wiring which fits into the head of the distributor. The terminal of the high tension wire from the coil is particularly likely to come loose. I have also seen this wire disturbed by carelessness and haste in cleaning off the distributor. Naturally if the wire is slightly loose there will be engine missing and arcing of current across the gap. The same is true of other high tension wires which fit into the cap.

What's Your Car Trouble?

Q. In addition to water there is quite a lot of black substance coming from the exhaust pipe. What's wrong?—S. H. H.

A. This is quite common. There's condensation in the tail pipe when it cools off. Then when the engine runs again the water comes out.

Today's Talk

By George Matthew Adams

THINKING

It would be a tragic indictment upon intelligence, could the real facts be presented, contrasting words with real thought. What a vast number of people talk their lives away without ever saying anything that is the product of serious thinking!

Reading in Thoreau's Journal (1852), I came across this sentence: "Each thought that is welcomed and recorded is a nest egg, by the side of which more will be laid."

Thoreau thought that Emerson would make a sorry sight going along the street pushing a wheelbarrow. He would appear "out of character" doing such a thing. But Thoreau, lover of nature, isolated human being that he was, and with no qualms as to what people would think of what he did, would push a wheelbarrow down Park Street, Boston, should such an occasion seem plausible to him. And every step of the way he would be thinking thoughts that might explode the ordinary mind!

Both Emerson and Thoreau were great thinkers, though almost opposite in nature, temperament and breeding. I may be wrong, but I am of the opinion Thoreau's fame may outlast that of Emerson, though Emerson presents to the world a more lovable figure. Thoreau got closer to the earth. It was his text-book.

There is something profoundly interesting in almost everything in life. If one gives real thought to it. The more we look upon beauty, and delve into the mysteries of the Universe—and think upon them—the higher are we lifted onto a real plane of happy contentment.

This world was created for man. It was meant for him a paradise. Everything essential to both his health and happiness was placed here for him. He was born with the power of choice. He was endowed with the ability to see, to hear, and to choose. That he has often made a mess of his inheritance is no fault of the Creator who put him here.

To each of us comes the whispered admonition—whatever you see that is beautiful, clean, wholesome, inspiring, mysterious, glorifying, and of good report, think of these things!

The concertina was invented by an Englishman in 1829.

4,250 Troops Guard Flood Areas Along Mississippi

THOUSANDS OF CIVILIANS AT WORK; 14 DEAD

(By The Associated Press)

An army of soldiers, engineers and civilian defense volunteers stood guard today along a 100-mile front of the mighty Mississippi river, choked by flood waters from scores of tributaries, ready to meet the imminent dangers from the ever-rising "Father of Waters."

From Alton, Illinois, southward to Cape Girardeau, Missouri, some 4,250 troops patrolled the river front, an area regarded by army engineers at St. Louis as the immediate concentration point in the six-state mid-west flood zone.

14 Known Dead

There were other points of danger in the immediate area, however, with the Illinois river on the rise along a 200-mile front and the Missouri river roaring out of its normal channel as it neared its junction with the Mississippi near Alton.

While flood conditions harassed thousands of families in other parts of the flood area—in Indiana, Arkansas, Kansas and Oklahoma—the immediate concern was in the southern sections of Illinois and Missouri. The homeless total in the entire area was well above the 100,000 mark and the damage to crops and property by the floods reached staggering figures, losses running into the millions of dollars.

The number of dead was 14—eight in Indiana; 3 in Missouri; 2 in Oklahoma, and 1 in Illinois.

Many Volunteers

Thousands of soldiers were in the flood zone and were aided by 25,000 civilian defense volunteers.

Lt. Col. J. A. Adams, deputy army district engineer at St. Louis, said today that everything possible had been done to meet the dangers of the rising Mississippi from Alton southward 100 miles.

In St. Louis the river stage last night was 37.3 feet, with a crest of 38 feet predicted for today or tomorrow. That would equal the second all-time crest, the 1903 38-foot level being exceeded only by the record 41.2 level in 1844.

Archibald Himes, president of the local Fish and Game club, states that anyone in the community or outlying rural districts, if troubled with rabbit pests in the crops, may report the matter to the club who will furnish a box trap for their elimination, provided the person so furnished turns captured rabbits over to the club for proper distribution.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Myers, route one, were hosts during the week at their home to members of the Young People's department of the Red Run Sunday school.

Eisenhart's school on route three, Mrs. Frances Bechtel, teacher, closed for the summer vacation on Thursday.

NO VIOLATION TO DRIVE YOUR CAR TO STORAGE

Philadelphia, May 22 (AP)—Strict regulations covering permissible and forbidden types of automobile driving were listed today by the Office of Price Administration as traffic on streets and highways throughout the city and state dropped to as little as 50 per cent of the normal wartime level.

OPA agents, planning stringent enforcement of the reinstituted ban on pleasure driving, asked for and received pledges of cooperation from state and local police agencies, and in Harrisburg Governor Martin pledged that the commonwealth will "cooperate in every way we can."

Public transportation facilities, already carrying an abnormal load, found available equipment further taxed as thousands of additional persons gave up use of their automobiles. Service stations reported business far below recent levels but thousands of gallons of fuel were reported enroute to rural distribution centers for use by farmers in tractors and other gasoline-powered equipment.

Types of Usage

In the first announcement here of its kind, the regional OPA office listed 29 types of driving permitted "even though other means of transportation are available." An additional group of 27 automobile missions were listed as permissible if no adequate alternative means of transportation are available, and 11 types of automobile usage specifically prohibited.

On the latter list were such varied activities as: Driving to War Bond rallies, banquets and other fund-raising amusements, PTA, social, fraternal and civic meetings, visiting relatives, and driving to a farm merely to inspect property.

Permitted under any conditions were occupational driving, including pickup and delivery, by salesmen, by paid school coach or superintendent, to inspect properties owned or managed, and to collect rents, to farms to work, by members of the clergy, by newspaper reporters covering news events, to do civilian defense work and to Red Cross committees, and as members of draft board or War Price and Rationing board.

Personal Uses

Permitted automobile usage listed by OPA included, significantly, driving car to nearest available place of dead storage or to sell it to a dealer, for fire inspection and for necessary repairs or service. Specific personal uses listed were driving from one city to another in connection with bona fide change of residence, driving cripple or invalid, when certified essential by doctor, and driving students to graduation ceremonies.

On the list as permissible only if no adequate alternative means of transportation is available were: Returning patients from hospitals, driving to marriages (but not wedding receptions), to visit doctors, dentists and hospitals for medical attention or to bring first aid or care to a sufferer, to procure living accommodations, delivering clothes to laundry and picking up laundered clothes, to visit the critically ill, to grange meetings, if attendance is not merely social, to court as witness, litigant or juror, to cemeteries for religious ceremonies, to union meetings, to cultivate bona fide Victory gardens if labor or persons being transported is necessary for regular cultivation, by directors, officers, trustees, etc., to meetings of board of directors and to annual meetings of fraternal, social or civic organizations where the persons are under an obligation to attend to transact business of the organization.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

I just want to write a few lines to let you know that I really appreciate and look forward to having The Gettysburg Times sent to me. I have been going to Gunner's Mate School here at the Newport Naval Training Station since February 25 and only have a few more weeks before I complete the course. I don't know where they will send me from here.

I realize that I have it easy compared to all the fellows who are overseas but I hope to be there with them soon. I have learned a lot since I have been in the Navy and there is one thought that is always in my mind, the instructors said war is like a race, there is a first and a second place to fight for so keep up the good work fellows and we'll soon win first place.

I just want to thank you again for sending me The Times and I hope you will continue to send it in the future.

Yours truly,

JAMES E. WEYGANDT,

Newport, R. I.

Women Permitted To Work 48 Hours

Harrisburg, May 22 (AP)—Permission for women transport employees to work 48 hours a week at regular rates, instead of the present 44, today opened the way for interstate bus and trolley companies to hire them on the same basis as men.

Secretary William H. Chesnut of the Labor and Industry department announced approval of a state industrial board decision placing the longer week in effect for interstate companies, adding "we are only conforming with Federal regulations which now affect interstate transportation companies."

Under previous regulations, women were paid overtime after they completed 44 hours work, Chesnut explaining the modification "corrects an inequality since women get the same pay as men."

Red Comintern May Be Dissolved

Refutes Charges Of Board Laxity

Harrisburg, May 22 (AP)—Liquor Control Board Chairman Frederick T. Gelder, 69-year-old teetotaler, used words of Prime Minister Churchill to refute charges of laxity in liquor law enforcement in Pennsylvania.

"Lots of men can make good plans for the war if they haven't got to carry them out," Gelder quoted Churchill as saying and added:

"That applies to this situation as well. We've got things under better control than we ever had before."

The Pennsylvania Alcoholic Beverage Study, Inc., an independent non-profit organization, asserted at Philadelphia yesterday the board had not discharged its "increased responsibility for vigorous enforcement" and claimed "a number of central city night clubs in Philadelphia are operating after hours, on Sundays and are guilty of other law violations with knowledge of the state board 'yet no citations have been issued.'"

Fairfield

Fairfield—Mr. and Mrs. Preston Weikert spent the week-end with Mrs. Weikert's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Dutera, York.

Week-end guests of Mrs. Ella M. Glenn were her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Glenn, of Lancaster.

The following members of the senior class of the high school spent the week-end in Washington, D. C.: Martha Metz, Theda Izer, Dolores Smith, Kathleen Kump, Jo-Ellen Nary, Kathleen Strausbaugh, Dale Kepner, Paul Baker, Ray Weikert, William Shultz and Maybelle Sell. Mrs. Robert McCullough, a member of the high school faculty, chaperoned the group. Mrs. Ethel Guisey and Calvin Bream also accompanied the group.

Mrs. Howard Armor entertained the Bridge club Monday evening at her home in Gettysburg. Mrs. Malcolm Arnold was an additional guest. Prizes for high scores were won by Miss Helen McClellan and Mrs. Robert Wells.

Private Ellis Shindlerdeck is spending a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shindlerdeck.

Mr. and Mrs. David Shue, of York, announce the birth of a daughter, Jo-Ann Marie. Mrs. Shue was the former Miss Eva Weishaar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weishaar.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Shultz and Miss Lorraine Weishaar spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. David Shue, York.

The second course in farm machinery repair in this district sponsored by the Fairfield borough school board is being held each Tuesday evening from 8 o'clock until 11 o'clock at the H. C. Hiner garage. The class instructor is Floyd Carbaugh. Any person 17 years of age or over is eligible to join and may bring in any farm machinery in need of repair. Instructions for repair of a corn planter, grain drill and a mowing machine were given at the last meeting. The following have already enrolled: John Beard, Howard Diehl, John Diehl, William White Jr., Sherman Bigham, Charles Stoner, Ellis Bream, Harvey Walters, Ellis Stine and Grant Bigham. Any one else wishing to do so may contact Dr. Anson Hamm, supervisor.

Corporal Luther Kepner, Camp Campbell, Kentucky, is spending a 10-day furlough with his wife, Mrs. Margaret Kepner. Corporal Kepner was called home because of the death of his mother, Mrs. Roy Kepner.

Mrs. James Chuck left Wednesday for Tallahassee, Florida, to join her husband, Sergeant James Chuck, who is stationed at Camp Gordon Johnston, Florida.

The 4-H club held an organization meeting Thursday evening at the home of Mary Wilson. It was decided to take "Out Door Cooking" for the summer project. The following officers were elected: President, Janet Musselman; vice president, June Miller; secretary, Betty Jo Sites; treasurer, Mary Wilson; news reporter, Susann Neely; song leader, Betty Musselman; game leader, Phyllis McClellan; Miss Mildred Adams is the local leader. Any girls between the ages of ten and twenty are eligible to become members and can do so by contacting any of the above named members.

Mrs. Jacob Althoff, president, presided at the meeting of the NCCW of St. Mary's church held Friday evening in the church basement. Plans were made for a card party to be held Monday evening, May 31, in the church hall.

Officials' Trial Is Nearing End

Uniontown, Pa., May 22 (AP)—A second malfeasance trial of three Fayette county commissioners neared an end today as President Judge Horatio S. Dumbauld charged the petit jury which had heard testimony since Tuesday.

If convicted, the defendants, John W. Rankin, Arthur Higinbotham and Michael Karolick, face six months in jail, fines of $500 each, or both.

The case grew out of a grand jury probe into the commissioners' alleged purchase of more than 100,000 gallons of gasoline from the Center Gas company, without receiving bids or executing a contract.

along with a lot of carbon which is normally in the exhaust system.

Q Can kerosene be used for freeing the piston rings?—F. D. S.

A Yes, but some of the gum solvents on the market are better. When using either kerosene or solvent inject it into the cylinders through the spark plug openings. Then put in a set of old plugs and crank the engine until the solvent is well distributed and forced down around the rings. If you use kerosene you should drain off the engine oil and refill before using the car.

Q Is there any way of figuring just how much rubber tread should normally be worn off a tire for a certain specified distance of travel?

—W. J. D.
A The normal wear is about 1-32nd inch of tread depth for each 1,500 miles of travel.

Q Is it necessary to keep the battery separators covered with water? I have seen cases where the cells were quite dry of water and still the battery kept going.

—Wm. K. L.
A If the plates get dry their exposed portions will rot. That seriously reduces the battery's capacity and means that trouble is ahead. Keep the water level 1/2 inch above the separators. Don't fill above this level because there may be loss of acid and water during charging and if the car is jounced about a lot.

Martin Will Name New Parole Board

Harrisburg, May 22 (AP)—Disclosing he will appoint a new three-member parole board next week, Governor Martin declared he gave up a plan to name Welfare Secretary S. M. R. O'Hara to the group because "during the war the Welfare department is so important and she is doing a very fine job."

The Chief Executive now has before him a legislature-approved bill reducing the size of the present five-member board. He indicated at his press conference he would sign it before its effective date of June 1.

Martin added the new appointees when named could serve under the new legislation when it becomes effective. The five-member board named by former Governor Arthur H. James but never confirmed by the Senate, left office automatically with the legislature's adjournment.

SIGNS CREDIT BILL

Harrisburg, May 22 (AP)—Governor Martin signed into law a bill which credits to the biennial appropriation of $250,000 for the Soldiers' and Sailors' Home at Erie any money received by the state from the Federal government for housing and maintaining military or other personnel at the home.

HIGHWAY TO HER HEART

by MAXINE SHORE

Chapter 16

They were on the river again, at last. After all they'd been through Penny could hardly realize the sheer luxury of it. To sit back, Cleve's dark head pillowed on her lap, while Marie To-ma's brown skiff hands wielded the paddle—what heavenly relief! Only one thing marred her contentment. Cleve's condition.

She bent to whisper to him soothingly. "It won't be long now, Cleve."

His gaze cleared slightly. "Hello, Penny," he said. "Where are we?"

"Almost to Moose Creek."

"Thank God." He smiled up at her crookedly, then lapsed into unconsciousness.

He didn't awaken until the canoe grated on the beach at Moose Creek.

"We're here, Cleve," said Penny. "Do you think you can manage to get up to one of those Indian houses if Marie and I help you?"

"Sure," he said.

They succeeded in getting him out of the canoe. Supporting him on either side, they struggled up the incline to the first Indian shack. Just before they reached it, Cleve collapsed.

Marie called out and some squaws appeared from the cabins. Soon Cleve was lying on a narrow cot in the nearest house. Penny bent over him, bathing his face with a cool wet cloth.

"Dear Cleve," she whispered. "You'll be all right. You've got to be. We need you, Bill and I."

At the mention of Bill's name, his eyelids fluttered. His brown eyes, nearly black with suffering, stared earnestly into her worried gray ones. "Penny—you've wasted enough time with me. You must go—go on."

Penny thought about that. It was only twenty-five miles upstream from here to Pierre le Frene's shack. Starting early in the morning, she could probably make it late the same evening, providing Moose Creek wasn't too swift. To come back downstream would take only half the time. She wouldn't need to be gone long, providing all was well with her brother. She hoped desperately it was. Then she could bring back help of some sort to Cleve. But the question confronting her now was, dared she leave him?

"Look, tot," he said. "A little rest, food and attention and this manimal will be as frisky as young Wolf. Believe me."

Penny regarded him doubtfully. He sounded very convincing but then he usually did. Still, he did look better. At least, he didn't look any worse. Even in the short time they'd been here, he seemed improved.

"If you're better tomorrow, we'll see," she said.

"I'll be better," he promised.

To her relief, he was. His fever had gone down and he reported less pain from his wounded arm.

He said, "Take Marie To-ma with you. She's a capable youngster. Then I won't worry about your being alone in the wilds."

"Poof," said Penny. "I can take care of myself."

He ignored that. "If you start early tomorrow morning, you'll get to the half-breed's shack by night-fall."

Reluctantly, Penny found herself following his instructions. Marie To-ma agreed to go readily enough. She'd taken quite a fancy to Penny. An old squaw, an aunt or grandmother of Marie's—Penny couldn't make out which—would look after Cleve. Penny repeated over and over directions as to his care and left supplies from her first aid kit.

She tiptoed in at dawn the next day to reassure herself that he hadn't taken a turn for the worse during the night.

His eyes were shut. His breathing was deep and regular. Sleep had smoothed the set lines of manhood from his face. Dreaming there in the Indian hut, relaxed arms out-thrust, he looked like a small boy.

Yielding to impulse, Penny bent and set her lips lightly against the shape of his. Something electric made warm contact between them. She drew back, startled, as Cleve stirred and opened his eyes.

"Cleve," she said, shaken. "I didn't mean to wake you up."

Still drowsy, he brushed his mouth with the back of one hand. "Maybe I dreamed it," he said.

Penny swallowed. "Dreamed what?"

"That—that someone kissed me. Penny—was it you?"

"Cleve," she evaded, "don't be absurd. I—I just came in to see if everything was all right with you, before I left."

His eyes followed the outline of her narrow, high-cheeked face like feeling, probing fingers. Then he grinned.

"You know, tot, you're photogenic. Odd I never noticed before."

"You don't notice lots of things."

"Maybe you're right," he said slowly. Then: "Well, you're starting, are you, tot?"

"Yes."

"I'm beginning to get qualms. Letting you go off by yourself."

"Marie's with me."

"Just the same, I don't know if Bill would like the idea of my allowing—"

"Your allowing!" sniffed Penny. "Am I a child?"

Cleve struggled up. "I think, after all, I'm strong enough to make it tot. Give me a hand and—"

Penny pushed him back. "I never heard of such nonsense!"

The effort had made him pale. Suffering grooved his face.

"Well," he admitted, "maybe you're right." He reached a lean hand to her. "Take good care of yourself, Penny."

"You too, Cleve."

"My best to good old Bill!"

"Yes."

"And, tot—it's just the whim of a sick man but—how about a farewell kiss?"

"Oh, no!" Penny stepped back, the words bursting from her involuntarily. She was remembering

Abbottstown

Abbottstown—The Fourth District Sunday School convention will be held next Sunday, May 23, at St. John's Lutheran church, Abbottstown.

Mr. and Mrs. Lavere Hamme and daughter, of York, visited Mrs. Hamme's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bowser, Sunday.

Pvt. Richard Sanders, who is stationed at Alabama, spent the week-end with his parents and fiancée, Miss Anna Emig.

PFC Harry Spangler has returned to camp after spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. James Gallett and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Myers, Hanover, spent Sunday with Mrs. Myers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wolf.

Mrs. Ray Groff, the former Miss Veletta Gise, spent the week-end with Mr. Groff's parents in Hanover.

Mrs. Ralph Roth, Spring Grove, visited Mrs. Edna Hafer, Saturday. James Gallett, former professional at the Hanover Country club, anticipates spending this summer with his brothers and mother in Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Word has been received here that APC Janet V. Baker, who was inducted into the WAACs recently, has been transferred from Conway, Arkansas, to Camp Polk, Louisiana. Prior to being stationed at Conway, Arkansas, she received her basic training at Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia.

Mrs. Annie Hake who was recently taken ill has improved slightly.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mummett, York, spent Sunday with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Mummett.

A number of members of the local Boy Scout troop spent the week-end at Camp Conewago, Dick's Dam. While there they prepared their own meals and had the opportunity to pass tests to enable them to receive a higher rank. They included Wilmer Rogers, Archie Lieb, Guy Hoke, leader, Herbert Hoke, Frank Altland and Earl Butt.

Twenty-two Eastern League contests, including all of last night's, have been postponed since the start of play May 4 but, as Albany club President Tom McCaffrey says, the season's still young and "I guess we'll get the games in all right." That's more than many a farmer can say of his early crops.

For the record, there have been four postponements each, thus far, at Binghamton, Scranton and Utica, and two each in the other five cities of the Class A circuit.

Montgomery Beats Beau Jack For Lightweight Title

PENNSY NEGRO TAKES MEASURE OF SHOE-SHINER

By SID FEDER
New York, May 22 (AP)—Philadelphia Bob Montgomery is the new lightweight champion.

Having won New York and New Jersey title recognition by bouncing the bouncing Beau Jack all over the premises for the better part of 15 rounds in Madison Square Garden last night, and being virtually assured of Pennsylvania's "blessing" Wednesday, Bobcat Bob is thinking of taking his crown for a quick swing around the circuit to see if there's anyone who might knock it off his close-cropped haircut.

After that, he'll go through with his contract to give the jumping Jack a return shot at the bauble, probably in the Polo Grounds here in July. But, of last night's shindig, which entertained 18,343 of the citizens, the Beau should take his time about getting back within range of the shots with which Bobcat Bob all but punched both his eyes shut last night. The Georgia galloper was strictly a "six furlong horse in a mile and a quarter race" when he tried that 15-round Derby route.

4th Negro Champ
Hot-and-cold Robert had the highly-favored one-time shoe-shine boy all but looking for a door last night long before the 15 rounds were up.

His little job was as good as he's ever done. After letting the Beau have his fling for five rounds, Bob came along to take the play through the last nine rounds and grab the title in the wild-swinging Georgian's first defense since he was handed the honors by the New York Commission after Sammy Angott abdicated last fall.

The 24-year-old Bob becomes the fourth negro to win what is generally regarded as the second-most-prized crown in the book, putting his name on the records along with the great Joe Gans, hammerin' Henry Armstrong and the Beau.

May Meet Angott
And now that he's in the driver's seat, the Bobcat is going to see how the motor runs. First off, he's going to report back Monday to his job of blacksmith at the Sun Shipbuilding company near Philadelphia. Meantime, his official fistic "family" by which he can make non-title stops in Washington, New Orleans, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland, Oregon, and Chicago in an eight-week ride around the country. Then, he'll see if he can make it stick against the Beau.

The only lightweight around today who figures to give Bob more than a walk for the pot is Sammy Angott—and Bob might even show the folks what makes Sammy run.

Shoots 71 To Win District 10 Title

Erie, Pa., May 22 (AP)—Playing a water-soaked course in three over par, Carl Neithamer of Erie academy bested 32 opponents to win the District 10 title of the PIAA yesterday on the Erie Golf club course.

Neithamer shot 37-34-71 while Jimmy Lee of Hickory township high, last year's champion, was second with 43-35-78. Others qualifying for the PIAA title playoff were Pete Lipchick and Harry Boback, both of Erie Tech.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, May 22 (AP)—It has been said that there's nothing like a good depression to help baseball, so maybe the prosperity of these times is reflected in the experiments this season with starting times for ball games. . . . The "depression" theory is that when men are out of work they have plenty of time to visit the ball park but when they're working hard they can't get away afternoons. . . . So far this season major league clubs have played afternoon, night, twilight and morning games—the last two presumably for the benefit of war workers. . . . Now, with double headers piling up, the Dodgers and Reds have scheduled a daylight-and-dusk doubleheader for June 30 and the Phillies and Braves are booked for a morning and afternoon bill June 15. . . . How about a continuous performance next?

THE OLD DAZE

A lot of you likely can remember when there weren't so many places to go and when a holiday always meant one game in the morning, lunch at that place across the street from the park and another game right afterward. . . . And on July 4 you tossed firecrackers at the ump's and likely as not hung around to toss rocks at the carroll in which the visiting team was riding to its hotel. . . . Well, you're riding to the park in streetcars again, so maybe the rest will come back.

NON-ATTENDANCE RECORD

A lot of ball clubs have been polling the fans about starting times, but the most novel poll was conducted in Oakland, Calif., recently (result hasn't reached here yet). . . . The idea was to start a doubleheader at one p. m. and count how many people left after the first game. . . . If many departed, that was supposed to prove that swing shifters, who had to get to work about four, liked the idea of having a game early enough for them to see.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

Ben Epstein, Little Rock (Ark.) Gazette: "The Chiang Kai-shek of China Bluff is Robert Hing. The 15-year-old Chinese who cut capers in the backfield for the Colts last year has been elected president of the Pine Bluff junior high school student council. Well, the Zebras always did boast an all-state Hing back."

SERVICE DEPT.

Harris Horder, former six-day bike racer who joined the American Army in Australia, was the tail gunner in a Liberator bomber that shot down six of 12 attacking Jap Zeros over New Guinea recently. . . . Must have thought they were trying to steal a lap at 6 a. m. . . . The Bakers and Cooks softball team was the first Fort Sheridan outfit to challenge the new organized WAAC squad. If they lose, the soldiers probably will dare the gals to try a cooking contest. . . . Pvt. James Farley, who plays for the 15th Signal Training Regiment baseball team at Fort Monmouth, N. J., isn't related to the former postmaster general, but he plays first base, too.

CLEANING THE CUFF
When the Great Lakes sailors play the University of Illinois today, there'll be a reunion of two rival coaches. Lieut. Mickey Cochrane caught for the Tigers and Wallie Roettger played in the outfield for the Cardinals in the 1931 World Series. For such an occasion, they should open champagne. . . . Al Barlick, the National league umpire, took his Army screen test yesterday. He's married and has seven-year-old daughter. . . . No wonder Jimmy Johnston is having a little trouble with names these days. On June 7 his heavyweight, Freddie Fiducia, fights Nate Bolden and the next night he'll send Ham Wiloby against Larry Bolvin.

Haegg May Break Hoodoo For Foreign Track Stars

By DILLON GRAHAM
AP Sports Editor

New York—Everyone seems to believe Gunder Haegg, the swift Swede, will run over our homebred gallopers in his upcoming races here. He may, but very few foreign track stars have been able to boast of their performances in America.

The so-called "superhumans"—Nurmi and Kohelmainen—could, but most of the others would just as soon forget their invasions.

Haegg possibly is another superhuman. All evidence indicates he is. No one ever put on such a record-breaking spree as the Gvate fireman staged last summer—seven new world records in two months. And he didn't bend the records, he shattered 'em by plenty. Our runners can't approach his times.

He looks like a shoo-in—but history shows that other foreign standouts were also-runs on our tracks. They've been coming over for 30 years and the first invader—Hans Kohelmainen—was one of the best. The Finnish distance runner arrived here some months after he had won top honors in the 1912 Olympic games with victories in the 5,000 and 10,000 meter and cross-country races.

Charley Hoff of Norway, was another who did better than all right. He cracked pole vault records almost every time he took off in 1926 before running into difficulties with the A.A.U.

Paul Martin of Switzerland, runner-up in the 800 meters in the 1928 Olympics, turned in some nice races here as did Edwin Wiede of Sweden, who specialized in odd-distance events and still holds the world mile-and-a-half indoor standard. Ugo Frigerio, the Italian walker, did okay in 1925 and Sune Carlsson, the Swede, won the mile indoor walk this year.

Henry Nielsen of Denmark, who held the world 3,000 meter record, dropped out of a race at Princeton in 1935 when he sailed the sea to tackle our boys. Sweden's miler, Eric Nye, couldn't do better than take third place in his several competitions here in the middle 1930's. Dr. Otto Pelzer of Germany, the half-mile record-holder, ran some good years here but was beaten.

Several years ago Finland and Nurmi were heralding Taisto Maki as a runner better than Nurmi but Maki wasn't a sensation on our tracks. Greg Rice beat him in his major stint in New York and Walter Mehl whipped him in another race.

Then there was the Sidney Wooderson case that was a brief international incident. The Britisher, holder of the world mile record, came over for a ballyhooed mile-of-the-century at Princeton against our best. But the race turned out to be a rout for Wooderson. He finished a poor last behind four Americans after being bumped on one of the turns.

"It's a strange thing," says Dan Ferris, secretary-treasurer of the A.A.U., "but Americans seem to do all right abroad while most foreigners are never at their best in this country. It's one of those things you can't explain."

Haegg's first appearance will be in the A.A.U. national outdoor championships here June 19-20. He'll probably run the mile and 5,000 meters. His itinerary is not completed but he probably will run later in Chicago, Boston and San Francisco.

Chicago's White Sox kept pace with the Athletics and dropped Washington a few points out of second place by winning another floodlight contest, 1 to 0, behind the three-hit hurling of Johnny Humphries, while Detroit's Tigers grabbed fourth place from St. Louis as the result of their 2-1, 13-inning conquest of the Boston Red Sox in the afternoon. Cleveland's idle Indians moved into second.

The entire National league card was postponed, but the Phillies again managed to get into the spotlight. Owner Bill Cox revealed he had made an offer to Lefty Gomez, former Yankee great recently cast adrift by the Boston Braves, and he listed a Saturday night game, a major league rarity, after last night's game was called off. The Cleveland Indians, determined to meet the Yankees under the lights, also booked a game for tonight after a postponement last night.

recently called to visit her son, Ray E. Shindeldecker, who was seriously ill at Camp Crowder, Missouri. Word has been received Ray is slightly improved.

Private Robert Sharrar, of Florida, John Watson and daughter, Mrs. Lula Knoll, Claude Ambrose, Waynesboro, were among those who spent Sunday at the home of William Kepner.

PFC Glenn Kepner and Robert McKelley returned to Camp Kittyhawk, North Carolina, after a five-day furlough at their homes here.

Corporal Luther Kepner, Camp Campbell, Kentucky; PFC Glenn Kepner, Camp Kittyhawk, North Carolina, and Mrs. Ralph Kooztz, Tampa, Florida, were called here on account of the illness and death of their mother, Mrs. Ray Kepner.

Sweden's miler, Eric Nye, couldn't do better than take third place in his several competitions here in the middle 1930's. Dr. Otto Pelzer of Germany, the half-mile record-holder, ran some good years here but was beaten.

Several years ago Finland and Nurmi were heralding Taisto Maki as a runner better than Nurmi but Maki wasn't a sensation on our tracks. Greg Rice beat him in his major stint in New York and Walter Mehl whipped him in another race.

Then there was the Sidney Wooderson case that was a brief international incident. The Britisher, holder of the world mile record, came over for a ballyhooed mile-of-the-century at Princeton against our best. But the race turned out to be a rout for Wooderson. He finished a poor last behind four Americans after being bumped on one of the turns.

"It's a strange thing," says Dan Ferris, secretary-treasurer of the A.A.U., "but Americans seem to do all right abroad while most foreigners are never at their best in this country. It's one of those things you can't explain."

Haegg's first appearance will be in the A.A.U. national outdoor championships here June 19-20. He'll probably run the mile and 5,000 meters. His itinerary is not completed but he probably will run later in Chicago, Boston and San Francisco.

Chicago's White Sox kept pace with the Athletics and dropped Washington a few points out of second place by winning another floodlight contest, 1 to 0, behind the three-hit hurling of Johnny Humphries, while Detroit's Tigers grabbed fourth place from St. Louis as the result of their 2-1, 13-inning conquest of the Boston Red Sox in the afternoon. Cleveland's idle Indians moved into second.

The entire National league card was postponed, but the Phillies again managed to get into the spotlight. Owner Bill Cox revealed he had made an offer to Lefty Gomez, former Yankee great recently cast adrift by the Boston Braves, and he listed a Saturday night game, a major league rarity, after last night's game was called off. The Cleveland Indians, determined to meet the Yankees under the lights, also booked a game for tonight after a postponement last night.

recently called to visit her son, Ray E. Shindeldecker, who was seriously ill at Camp Crowder, Missouri. Word has been received Ray is slightly improved.

Private Robert Sharrar, of Florida, John Watson and daughter, Mrs. Lula Knoll, Claude Ambrose, Waynesboro, were among those who spent Sunday at the home of William Kepner.

PFC Glenn Kepner and Robert McKelley returned to Camp Kittyhawk, North Carolina, after a five-day furlough at their homes here.

Corporal Luther Kepner, Camp Campbell, Kentucky; PFC Glenn Kepner, Camp Kittyhawk, North Carolina, and Mrs. Ralph Kooztz, Tampa, Florida, were called here on account of the illness and death of their mother, Mrs. Ray Kepner.

MONDAY AND TUESDAY
Don Ameche, Janet Blair and Jack Oakie are starred in Columbia's spectacular new musical, "Something to Shout About," which opens Monday at the Majestic theatre to introduce something new in the way of sparkling comedy, captivating singing and inspired dancing. According to Hollywood report, the new film is one of the season's outstanding extravaganzas; a mere recital of its players and credits is sufficient proof thereof!

In addition to its star trio, with Miss Blair fresh from her triumphal appearance as "My Sister Ellen," the new film features William Gaxton, Broadway's king of musical comedy; Cobina Wright, Jr., social register songstress, and Hazel Scott, musical idol of New York's Cafe Society and radio's millions of swing fans.

WEDNESDAY
Whimsical Ann Sothern and sophisticated Melvyn Douglas are teamed for the first time, in something really new in laugh-making romances, in "Three Hearts for Julia," coming Wednesday to the Majestic theatre, with the screen's Maisie in a "straight comedy" role, and with some elaborate musical presentations, though the picture is not a musical, embellishing a series of comic situations.

The fun begins when Miss Sothern can't decide between Douglas, Lee Bowman and Richard Arlino, whereupon trials and tribulations galore eventuate. In the midst of it the blonde charmer finds time to organize a women's symphony orchestra, which only adds to the love complications.

THURSDAY
The greatest company of skating stars ever assembled in a single motion picture, in addition to an acting cast of screen favorites, comes to the Majestic theatre on Thursday in Monogram's dazzling ice spectacle, "Silver Skates."

Heading the specialty performers is blonde, statuesque Belita, ice ballerina who is recognized as the world's outstanding feminine figure skater. Kenny Baker and Patricia Morison appear in the principal acting roles, and with Belita make up the romantic triangle in the story.

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Lana Turner and Robert Young who play the leads in "Slightly Dangerous."

Lana Turner mixes sodas blindfolded and figures in adventures ranging from an amnesia masque to a hectic romance with Robert Young in G-M-M's "Slightly Dangerous," which plays at the Majestic theatre Friday and Saturday. The picture, made for laughs, will keep you well entertained for there is never a dull moment.

Miss Turner plays the part of a soda clerk in a department store. She tires of her humdrum existence, leaves a suicide note, poses as an amnesia victim and long lost daughter of a millionaire. Young, the new store manager, is blamed for the "suicide." He sets out to find her and save his job. Complication follows upon complication until the climax finds the two principals madly in love.

"Prelude to War," a 50-minute reel through the OWI, which reveals the gangster formula used to plunge the world into war by Hitler, Mussolini and Hirohito, will be shown Friday and Saturday. The narrator will be Walter Huston.

Martinique has an area of 385 square miles.

Hagerstown Seeks Interstate Lead

(By The Associated Press)
Leadership of the Interstate League hinged today on a pair of games at Wilmington, with the pace-setting Blue Rocks defending their leadership against the challenge of the Hagerstown Cwls.

Hagerstown was stalled one-half game back of Wilmington with the other two scheduled league games, was postponed yesterday. The Owls broke Wilmington's six-game victory streak Thursday night, but must win both games this afternoon to climb to the top.

Today's Games
Hagerstown at Wilmington (2)
(1:30)
Trenton at York (2) (6:30)
Allentown at Lancaster
